

Superintendent's Corner for Week of October 3, 2016

Greetings Wildcat Family!

This week has been an amazing week for our district. Our district has been celebrating Spirit Week as we prepare to crown a new Homecoming King and Queen. First, I'd like to thank Sarah Thomas and her cheerleaders for planning our activities. Without their dedication to Wildcat Pride, the week wouldn't of been a success.

Homecoming is one of my favorite weeks of the year. It offers an opportunity to reconnect with graduates of N.L., some of which are back home; visiting from college. Sharing stories with them and hearing about their many accomplishments is energizing. Its also an opportunity for me to reconnect with some not so recent grads that attend our parade and football games. I enjoy the stories from their days in high school...stories that remind me of the proud traditions of our learning community.

One of the components of a successful school district is a supportive community. Homecoming allows all of us to remember why we care so deeply for our district and community. It also reminds us how important our alumni and community are to the success of our current students. To all the alumni near and far Welcome Home! Its great to see so many familiar faces and hear so many wonderful stories of New London Local Schools.

For additional updates on our district and news regarding education in our state, visit my blog at <http://newlondonssuperintendentsblog.blogspot.com>. I've started it new for this year to increase communication to our community.

Until Next Time,

GO WILDCATS!!!

Brad Romano