

Superintendent's Corner – August 4, 2017

Last Friday our district partnered with the New London Salvation Army and the New London PTA to sponsor our annual “Stuff the Bus” program. I am proud to say that this was one of the most successful “Stuff the Bus” in recent years. Through the generosity of our community we have successfully stuffed over 50 backpacks for our students. In addition we have an abundance of extra supplies to distribute throughout the entire year. The success of “Stuff the Bus” does not rest with one person. Everyone at the Salvation Army who contacted families, our wonderful PTA and high school Student Council that volunteered their time collecting supplies, our elementary staff that assisted in organizing the event and sorted through our donations, Randy Ruggels that allowed us to hold the event at the Gas Depot and our community – the parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, neighbors, and friends that showed a tremendous outpouring of generosity and support should be proud of their efforts to ensure that our students can start the new year with the necessary supplies to have a successful year. A heartfelt thank you to these individuals and groups, because without you “Stuff the Bus” would not have been a success. Thank you so much for all that you do for our students!

Until Next Time, GO WILDCATS

Brad Romano